Part 2: Long Turn

Describe a city you would like to visit.

You should say:

- where the city is
- what the city is known for
- why you want to visit it

Model Answer:

"Um, so, the city I'd really love to visit is Tokyo, Japan. It's, you know, right on the eastern coast of Japan's main island, Honshu, and it's just this incredible mix of ancient traditions and really dazzling modernity, which makes it, uh, super unique, I think, on the global stage.

Tokyo is famous, really famous actually, for a bunch of things. First off, it's a world leader in technology. I mean, they're doing amazing things with robotics and electronics, and they've got some of the top tech companies in the world. You can see this _____ like, everywhere in the city—from their architecture to, um, how they handle infrastructure and even in daily life, they have these automated restaurants and robot cafes, which sound really cool.

And then, you've got this rich cultural side of Tokyo, right? There are these amazing historical sites, like the ancient Senso-ji Temple in Asakusa, which is one of the oldest temples there, and the Meiji Shrine, which is this serene spot dedicated to the 19th-century emperor who really modernised Japan. These places are like peaceful escapes from the city's fast pace.

Oh, and the arts scene there is just, um, vibrant and really diverse. Tokyo hosts international film festivals, art exhibitions, and fashion weeks. Places like Shibuya and Harajuku are major fashion hotspots, where street fashion can often set global trends.

And, uh, let's not forget about the food! Tokyo offers everything from Michelin-starred restaurants to these cozy local izakayas, which are like Japanese pubs, all crammed into narrow alleys. Their cuisine is a blend of so many culinary traditions, creating unique flavours that you just can't find anywhere else.

I want to visit Tokyo because it kind of embodies this lifestyle of _____, which is just fascinating to me. Being there would let me really dive into its rich _____ and see how such a _____ manages to keep a balance, you know, between _____ and being a leader in innovation.

So, yeah, exploring Tokyo feels like stepping into another world—one that respects its past while kind of driving the future. That's what intrigues me so much about it, and why it's at the top of my list of cities to visit."

Part 3: Discussion

1. What benefits do you think tourism brings to a city?

Model Answer:

"Tourism can significantly boost a city's economy by increasing spending in local businesses, such as hotels, restaurants, and shops. It also, err, creates employment opportunities in the service sector. Furthermore, tourism can help preserve historical sites and promote cultural awareness among both visitors and locals."

2. Do you think the city you want to visit is suitable for all types of tourists? Why or why not?

Model Answer:

"Um, Tokyo is quite _____ and can cater to various types of tourists, whether they are interested in history, technology, or fashion. However, it might be _____ for those who prefer a quieter, more relaxed vacation due to its _____ and densely populated areas."

3. How could visiting a city change a person's perspective?

Model Answer:

"Visiting a city, especially one from a different cultural or economic background, can _____ a person's perspective significantly. It exposes them to new ways of living and different social norms, which can lead to greater _____ and appreciation. For instance, experiencing Tokyo's blend of old traditions and cutting-edge modernity could inspire a visitor to appreciate the balance between history and progress."
